One Page Report

Topic:- Entrepreneurial skills - By Mr. Rajendra Nehe.

The Department of Engineering Sciences and Humanities has organised a fantastic five-day event on entrepreneurial skills from October 14 to October 18. Participating in the ceremony for the event's opening were the Hon. Umesh Jadhav Executive President and Dr. M. P. Chand, Principal VOGCE. Prof. Sumit Kumar, assistant professor and head of the EXTC, led the session. Everyone who was invited provided a brief overview of the programme, but Mr. Rajendra Nehe in particular motivated the students by discussing the value of entrepreneurial abilities. A vote of gratitude by Prof. Hemant Sonawane brought the inaugural session to a close. The Presentation featured the primary training materials. written by Assistant Professor DESH, Professor Vaishali Morankar. Many significant subjects were covered during the five days of discussions.

Every student participated in a 30-second presenting practice to help them overcome stage fright. All subjects and presentations were chosen by the students themselves. After this presentation was captured on camera, the next day's class began with a discussion of how the students' presentations may be improved. A second group activity was given. All pupils were separated into groups and given various activities, in which they all took an active part both individually and collectively. The previous two exercises involved making decisions and addressing problems. All of the students provided feedback on the five-day session at the end of the class. Few students spoke about their experiences in the sessions. As well as the distribution of certificates Prof. Hemant Sonawane offers a vote of thanks.
